

Eisenhower to Return to White House Tuesday; Sends Proposals to Congress

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower prepared today to wind up his Georgia vacation and return to Washington without the cold and cough that nagged at him most of the winter.

After nearly two weeks of golfing and resting in balmy weather here, the President appeared to be well recovered from his cough. He will fly back to Washington Tuesday afternoon.

Eisenhower acted on a number of official papers this morning and then headed out on the Augusta National Golf course for another round of his favorite sport.

He sent to the Senate a list of previously announced nominations, including that of Llewellyn E. Thompson as the new ambassador to Russia.

The President today also:

Sent to Congress his first reorganization plan of 1957, transferring to other government agencies the remaining functions of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. The RFC has been in a process of liquidation for several years and the plan sent to Congress today would formally abolish the RFC.

Submitted to the Senate for ratification a treaty with Japan for the avoidance of double taxation on operations of the export-import banks of Japan and the United States.

The reorganization plan, which becomes effective in 60 days unless either house votes specific disapproval, was largely procedural and designed to transfer the administration of the RFC's remaining assets to other agencies of the government.

The President and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles have mapped a plea for restoration of "the majority" of a House-approved cut in the State Department budget.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty pointed out that the President earlier this year agreed that federal agencies should absorb budget cuts wherever possible but he thought the reduction of state's budget would threaten the department's basic operation.

The administration in January asked for $227,700,000 which the House reduced to $180,400,000.

West Germany Hits A-Monopoly Aims of Russia

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany charged Soviet Russia today with seeking a monopoly of nuclear weapons with the aim of permanently enslaving Europe.

In a strongly worded statement read to a news conference here, Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano declared that Russia has tremendous superiority in armed forces on the continent.

He asserted that it is only the stationing of United States and other NATO forces in Europe that has checked the "Soviet urge to expand."

Brentano's statement replied to a Soviet note handed to the West German embassy in Moscow Saturday night warning the Bonn republic that an atomic conflict would blast Germany into "a graveyard."

"My impression," Brentano said, "is that the main objective of the Soviet Union is to obtain a monopoly as regards the possession of nuclear weapons, so that she may hold this continent in everlasting dependency."

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, meanwhile, conferred with members of his cabinet today and will consult with West Germany's Atlantic Pact allies before replying to the Soviet Union's latest atom-rattling threat.

Government sources said Moscow's warning that West Germany would become "a cemetery" in any new war will be a major topic of discussion at the pact conference that opens here Thursday.

The Council of Europe, which meets in Strasbourg today, also is expected to discuss Soviet efforts to intimidate America's European allies. West Germany is only one of half a dozen countries which have been threatened with H-bomb annihilation if World War III should start.

Rain Credited with Helping Extinguish Rail Bridge Fire

JOHNSTON CITY, Ill. (AP)—Rain was credited today with helping to put out a railroad bridge fire.

The fire started when a lightning bolt struck the 300-foot Missouri Pacific Railroad bridge late Sunday.

Firemen rushed from nearby Johnston City, Marion and West Frankfort but found creek beds too dry to provide sufficient water for pumping.

After several hours of rainfall the creeks filled and firemen extinguished the blaze. Damage was estimated at $30,000.

Rains, Strong Winds Hit Area

Rains accompanied by strong winds hit the area twice over the week-end and this morning more rains came down.

Although there was little reported damage in the immediate area, it was learned that the dark, fast-moving cloud that brought some rain around 7 p. m. Saturday, did considerable damage in the Broughton area.

Lots of tree limbs were broken down and CIPS workers spent hours in restoring power service. Besides in Broughton, it was learned there was damage in an area between Broughton and Norris City.

Last night's cloud brought with it a downpour.

Harrison Kibler reported the week-end rainfall here was 1.62 inches. He said Middle Fork creek, which had been low the past few days, was rising this morning.

Congress Back In Session After 10-Day Holiday

Civil Rights Bill Progresses, But Little Chance Seen

By United Press

Congressional leaders said today they have found sentiment for cutting the federal budget greater than they had realized.

"I have never seen such strong demands for economy in the government," Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) told newsmen as Congress returned from its 10-day Easter holiday.

Johnson and many other members had a chance to sample voter sentiment back home during the recess.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) said he found no "diminution" of the economy sentiment—"if anything, I find it accentuated."

Knowland repeated earlier predictions that Congress will cut President Eisenhower's $71,800,000 budget by three billion dollars. Sen. Styles Bridges (N.H.), chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, also forecast a three-billion-dollar reduction.

Another influential Republican congressman, Rep. Richard M. Simpson (Pa.), called on Congress to force a cut in government spending by enacting an across-the-board tax cut. Simpson is chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee and a member of the Tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

He said that if Congress both cuts taxes and reduces appropriations, the administration will cut actual spending because Eisenhower will not condone deficit spending.

Other congressional news:

Civil Rights: Eisenhower's civil rights bill made some progress in congressional committees today, but there were growing indications it may not be enacted into law this year. Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) of the House Rules Committee said that group would begin hearings on the bill later this week. But with large numbers of opponents wanting to be heard, it appeared doubtful the bill would reach the House floor.

Sinroll Pleads Innocent to Murder as Trial Gets Under Way

MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (AP)—The admitted slayer of a college student from Danvers, Mass., pleaded innocent to murder today.

Fred Sinroll, 20, Sterling, Ill., made the plea at an arraignment before his trial got under way.

Robert M. Batura, 19, Danvers, Mass., was slain by a shotgun blast in a "horseplay" session last Dec. 12 in a dormitory at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. Authorities said Sinroll admitted the shooting but claimed it was accidental.

The state will not seek the death penalty for Sinroll, State's Atty. William Ridgeway said in questioning jurors for the trial.

Defense Atty. Fletcher Lewis told prospective jurors, "Every homicide isn't murder and is sometimes justifiable or excusable."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sinroll, parents of the accused, and Mr. and Mrs. Constantine Batura, parents of the slain youth, attended the court sessions. Approximately 100 spectators also were in the courtroom of Judge C. Ross Reynolds.

Two jurors were tentatively selected during the first hour of the trial from among the 34 veniremen who reported. Another panel of 3 prospective jurors was called for Tuesday, although Reynolds said he expected the jury would be completed today.

Batura's death landed with a bombshell effect on the campus of the college town. He was a sophomore end on SIU's football team and a chemistry major.

The shooting occurred in a dormitory above a garage located two blocks from the campus.

Batura and Sinroll shared the room with two witnesses to the shooting, John Abramovitch, 21; Haverhill, Mass., and Henry Hillman, 18, Park Ridge, Ill.

Claimed No Hard Feelings
Inquest testimony indicated that Batura and Abramovitch, his closest friend and football teammate, disarranged Sinroll's bed, moved his trunk and turned out all but one light as a prank while Sinroll was making a phone call.

Sinroll returned to the room, was enraged by the prank and got a shotgun. Batura was shot as he started toward Sinroll to move the gun, authorities said.

Hillman said there were no "hard feelings" between Sinroll and Batura and that the roommates had previously engaged in pillow fights and pranks.

Sinroll left the university after filing $15,000 bond.

His attorneys are Fletcher Lewis and William Wolff of Murphysboro. Lewis was the defense attorney in Jackson County's last murder trial five years ago when an Ava, Ill., man was acquitted in another shotgun slaying.

The prosecutors are State's Atty. William Ridgeway and his assistant, John Gilbert, who was state's attorney during the county's last murder trial.

Saturday Harrisburg Police Chief Ross Lane and Saline County Deputy Charles Donelson went to Paducah and returned with Bryant and the girl.

A lawsuit which asks $61,500 in damages was filed in Saline county circuit court today.

Plaintiffs are Carl Linder, James Ward Fields and Ruby Fields in the complaint, filed for them by Atty. Trafton Dennis and Atty D. F. Rumsey of Harrisburg. Defendants are Robert York and Byford York.

The lawsuit arose from a collision of a car driven by Fields and a tank oil truck driven by Robert York on Route 45 at Ledford crossing south of Harrisburg July 30, 1955.

The complaint lists Carl Linder and Ruby Fields as passengers with Fields and Byford York as the owner of the oil tank and truck.

James Ward Fields asks $50,000 for injuries and $1,500 for damages to his automobile. Linder and Ruby Fields each asks $5,000 for injuries.

Mother and Son Held for Robbing Supermarket After His Jail Release

NEW YORK (AP)—A 56-year-old grandmother and her 26-year-old ex-convict son celebrated his recent release from jail by robbing a supermarket owner of $13,000 and making off in his Cadillac, police charged today.

They were arrested Sunday. A second man also was seized and police were seeking a third man in connection with the holdup.

Held on charges of assault and robbery were Mrs. Edna MacDonald, 56; her son, John A. Mayas, 26, of Route 2 Middlebourne, W. Va., and Anthony T. Cirillo, 26, of Brooklyn.

Sought was Salvatore Piga, 35, who police said was the third man involved in the stickup.

According to police, Julius Tampleff was closing his Staten Island supermarket shortly before midnight Saturday when the three men, armed, entered and robbed him of $13,000 in bills, silver and checks. They then took his car keys and, with Mrs. MacDonald at the wheel, fled in Tampleff's Cadillac.

Less than half an hour later, police, alerted by Tampleff, saw the car approach a ferry terminal and seized Mrs. MacDonald and Cirillo. Inside the car, police found the money and three loaded revolvers.

Mayas was picked up several hours later while walking along a street in downtown Manhattan.

Police said Mayas was released from jail in Middlebourne last week. They said Mrs. MacDonald met her son on his release from jail and drove him to New York.

Report Ex-Husband Says Sandra O'Day Knows of Missing Ransom

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Officials have refused to comment on a published report that a former husband of Sandra June O'Day, a key figure in the Greenlease ransom investigation, sent two men to inform the father of the murdered boy that the O'Day woman knew who had the missing $300,000 ransom money.

The story, by Theodore C. Link, appeared in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch Sunday.

Link said the men were sent to Robert C. Greenlease, wealthy Kansas City, Mo., auto dealer, by Thomas Lloyd Hammond, Du Quoin, Ill. Hammond, an ex-convict, subsequently married the O'Day woman and later was divorced from her.

They proposed, according to the story, to recover the money if Greenlease would provide them the use of a Cadillac car equipped with a tape recorder and pay other expenses. Greenlease turned down the proposal.

The emissaries were identified as former City Judge L. P. Harris of Du Quoin and Henry Goodman, a licensed private detective of Belleville, Ill. who died last year.

The O'Day woman had spent the night at Coral Court, a St. Louis County motel, with Carl Austin Hall, kidnaper of Bobby Greenlease, after Hall fled from Kansas City in October, 1953. He and his accomplice, Bonnie Brown Heady, were executed for the crime but about half of the $600,000 ransom they brought with him has never been found.

The Post-Dispatch said that Harris and Goodman told Greenlease and his attorney, Roy C. Hornberg, that they had been in touch with a man who was getting information from the O'Day woman about the missing money.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
King Hussein Develops Unexpected Backbone; His Mother Was Pro-Nasser; Cairo Radio Trains Barrage Of Propaganda On Arabs And Africans.

WASHINGTON. — Inside the King's Palace — Biggest surprise of the struggle over Jordan has been the stamina of 22-year-old King Hussein. Just one year ago he was considered the weakest reed in the lineup of Arab monarchs. He so emulated the woman-chasing techniques of King Farouk of Egypt that his young wife went to live with her family in Cairo.
She has not returned. . . . His mother, Queen Zaine, was reported to be the real power behind the throne. British intelligence responsible for pushing out British General Glubb, the man who trained the Arab Legion. The British also reported that she had been subsidized to the tune of $300,000 by King Saud and Col. Nasser in order to do it. . . . King Hussein's current backbone is attributed partly to his British education, partly to support from his cousin, King Faisal of Iraq, partly support from King Saud, who has now begun to fear Russia more than the British. . . . Hussein's father, King Abdullah, was so pro-West and so friendly to Israel that he was assassinated. He met twice with Israel's foreign minister Golda Meir, who crossed the border disguised as an Arab woman to try to arrange peace between the Jews and Arabs. Abdullah complained at their last meeting that he was a virtual prisoner; shortly thereafter he was killed.

Inside Jordan — The old city of Jerusalem, scene of Arab intrigue, looks as peaceful on the surface as the poplar trees which line its ancient walls. But behind those walls pace Arab guards. Machine guns peer out from slits in the walls, sandbags shield little groups of Arab soldiers—all just a stone's throw from the Holy Sepulchre where he is buried who preached "Peace on earth, good will to men." . . .
The holy places of Jerusalem are all in the old city under Arab rule, including most of the Christian churches. Fifteen miles to the south is Bethlehem, where Christ was born—likewise in Jordan.
Tourists and religious pilgrims used to stream back and forth between old and new Jerusalem, through the Mandelbaum gate. Now the gate is guarded night and day. Only diplomats or those with special visas can pass
. . . Amman, capital of Jordan, has become a thriving city of 200, 000—almost doubled as a result of the refugees fleeing from Israel.
In the past decade, new autos have replaced donkeys and camels, given it a traffic problem
. . . As in most of the Near East, water is what Jordan needs most. It's a greater problem in Jordan than in Syria, Lebanon, or Israel. Jordan would be one of the chief beneficiaries of the Jordan valley irrigation project proposed by special ambassador Eric Johnston, but he was never able to persuade any of the Arab states to go ahead with his plan.

Inside Egypt — There's definite evidence that Col. Nasser gave the chief filip to the Jordanian revolt—after conferring with Soviet Ambassador Evgeny D.
Kisselev in Cairo. . . . At first Nasser was caught off balance by King Hussein's tough tactics against communism. But after conferring with the Russian ambassador, Nasser got busy. Egyptian agents inside Jordan went ahead full force. . . . It will be a long time before the U. S. A. lives down the 1953 error when John Foster Dulles delivered the pearl-handled revolver to President Na-guib as a gift from President Eisenhower. Token of force, the Egyptians have used force. . . .
Senators have been quietly probing the mistakes of our Near Eastern policy from the revolver to Dulles' nagging at the British in 1953-54 to get out of Suez. They finally bowed, left without any agreement from Egypt. . . . Another error: Dulles' constant urging of an Aswan dam loan on Nasser at a time when he was getting arms in tremendous quantities from Russia. Offering

Nasser Propaganda — The Cairo

effective than the Voice of Amer-

Its main theme is to incite revolt against the West. . . . Col. Nasser, of course, controls Cairo radio recent broadcasts:

"I will not hesitate, my brethren in Tunisia, Morocco, and Alobtained except through struggle, unity, cooperation, and sacrifice.

Working Wives at New High, But Many Would Rather Remain at Home

By GAY PAULEY

United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — The number of wives holding jobs outside the home is at a new high. But one study released today indicates many of them would rather stay home.

"I want to stay home, eat bonbons and watch TV," was the way one woman stated her preference.
Only last weekend, the U. S.
Census Bureau reported more and more women are going to work to help their husbands meet the increased cost of living—that the number of working wives increased by 5 million between April 1947 and March, 1956, to a record
12,300,000.

Hard on the heels of the government report comes one today from the Young Women's Christian Assn., showing that marriage and family is the status most American women prefer.
This was the majority answer from 8,000 women, 12 years of age and older, to a questionnaire the YMCA sent its members as part of its 102nd anniversary celebration.

Of the answers which came in from 29 states, 3,258 homemakers said they did not hold outside jobs. Some 2,500 did. And, another 1,655—most of them single and in the 12 to 18-year-old group—were still in school. More than half the 8,000 were married, and most of them had children.

Sixty-eight per cent of the total said "yes" to the basic question:
"Are you satisfied with your present role as a woman in today's world?"

But when the questionnaire gave the unhappy ones a chance to list their preferences that reluctance to work showed.

In the 12 to 18 group, 248 said they wanted marriage, family and no outside job. Only 81 wanted work as part of their future.

The YWCA said that the 19 to 35 age group "also went in favor of marriage and children without employment." Only 216 said they'd like an outside job.

"Woman's life is a dog's life.
Slavery . . . slavery . . . slavery," said one woman.
"I'd settle for one boss—a husband," said another.

Fleet Prison, old historic London jail, was abandoned in 1842 and later was torn down.

added protection for you,
your wife and your children!

As do most thoughtful family men, you undoubtedly have insurance on your own life. Probably, you would also like to strengthen your Life insurance program with added protection on yourself, and also on your wife and children.

Metropolitan now has a new Family Plan which provides additional coverage for you and the eligible members of your immediate family with a single policy.

There are many advantages to a single policy for your whole family, including low premium cost . . . convenience of paying one premium . . . and simplicity of keeping records.

Here are some of its features:
For you—Permanent Life insurance with the usual cash and loan values

. . . and with the special attraction of a reduced premium guaranteed for the first five years.

For your wife—Term insurance on her life of about one-fourth the amount of your insurance under this policy . . . continuing to the time you would be 85.

For your children between the ages of 14 days and 18 years—term insurance on each child until age 25. The premium is the same regardless of the number of children, and those born after the policy comes into effect will be automatically covered.

Moreover, when each child reaches age 25, he can apply for insurance on a permanent plan up to five times the amount of his insurance without medical examination. The amount of the premium for this new insurance will depend on the type of policy then selected.

In addition, if you should die, the insurance under this policy on your wife and children would continue just as if you had lived—with no more premiums to pay.

Your Metropolitan Representative will welcome the opportunity to explain all the advantages of the new Metropolitan Family Policy and show

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D. (Written for NEA Service)

Flying above the clouds at great heights gives us a thrill far greater than making speed. It removes from view the scars on the landscape. It creates a feeling of remoteness from the dirt and grime of human error or sin, which sometimes frustrates our whole being.

We feel that we are standing still while the clouds roll along slowly toward their destination. We feel a little nearer to God because we are farther away from worldly temptation.

It is good for us to go apart from the world to cleanse our souls, and to separate us from the hurry and scurry of modern living. We do not have to go above the clouds to enjoy this spiritual refreshment. We need only to go apart and pray.

Merely closing our eyes can and does give us the sense of remoteness if we couple it with the process of talking to God.

More than one-half of Ontario, Canada's second largest province, is forest.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hendren Celebrated Easter Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hendren, RFD 2, Harrisburg, celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary with an open-house and reception Sunday from two to five o'clock in the afternoon, with all ten of their children attending.

The celebration really started on Saturday evening when a dinner for 29 guests was held at Nick's 45 drive-in cafe. The cafe had been decorated by Mrs. Paul Hendren, a daughter-in-law, with gold candles, gold-colored place cards and nut-cup favors, made by Mrs. Hendren.

There were 33 of the family that attended the McKinley Avenue Baptist church services, Easter morning, where Mr. and Mrs. Hendren are both active in church affairs. Mr. Hendren has been a deacon of the church for several years and they both became members in 1913 when they brought their church letter from the First Baptist church of Coal Creek, Tenn.

Mrs. Henry Hendren wore a blue lace dress for her afternoon reception and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses. Mr. Hendren wore a blue-grey business suit and a yellow rose boutonniere. The daughters each wore a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums, and the sons, boutonnières of the same kind of flowers.

Mrs. H. C. Hendren Jr. and Mrs. Paul Hendren presided at the reception table where a tiered cake carrying the emblem "Golden Anniversary" rested on a mirror between a punchbowl placed at one end of the table and a coffee service at the other. Plates of cake, mints and nuts were intermingled with yellow chrysanthemums and served to the guests from the table. In addition to the ten children, seventeen grandchildren were guests. Two of the granddaughters, Miss Norma Butler and Miss Darlene Jarrell kept the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hendren, born in Tennessee, were married in Campbell county at Beach Grove. They had one daughter when they came to Saline county in 1912 and the other nine children were born here.

Gifts from the children and many friends were of money and were placed in envelopes and hung from a golden tree, made of an uncovered umbrella frame, gold foil and gold ribbon wrapped the 10 spokes, one for each child, which formed the branches of this "family" tree.

M-Sgt. W. D. Siemsglusz and his wife Evelyn and three children, Susan, Dede, and seven months old Walter, arrived last week from Mill Valley, Calif., and Mrs. Siemsglusz and children will remain here while the sergeant does a tour of duty in the Pacific area. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jackson, and a family dinner party was held there Sunday in their honor. A brother, D. L. Jackson, and family from Evansville also attended the dinner.

Calendar Of Meetings

The fourth quarterly conference of the First Methodist church will be held by the Dr. Maurice Winn, district superintendent, this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the church parlor.

There will be a stated meeting of Galatia IOOF lodge No. 433 Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. All members are urged to attend and visitors are welcome.

Family Night will be held for all Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and children at the IOOF lodge No. 874 in Carrier Mills Thursday, May 2, at 7:30 p. m. There will be entertainment for all including quartets from Carrier Mills and Eldorado and a trio from Harrisburg and Carrier Mills. A potluck dinner will be served and the lodge will furnish the meat and drinks.

Attend Spring Meeting Of Catholic Women at Flora

The spring meeting of the Eldorado Deane, of the National Council of Catholic Women, attended by 103 women and seven visiting priests, was opened with Mass at 9 o'clock at St. Stephen's parish, Flora, April 24. The Rev. Ralph Arnold was the celebrant.

Mrs. Everett Lyons, Deane Council president, presided at the morning session with opening prayer to Our Lady of Good Council by Rev. J. R. Arnold, moderator, followed by Salute to the Flag and greetings from host pastor, the Rev. Bernard Loepker.

Speaking on "Preparing Youth for Marriage," the Rev. Jos. Hayes, instructor in Assumption high school, East St. Louis, said that marriage should be considered as a "career" and was certainly the most important decision in the lives of young people.

During the business meeting Mrs. J. J. Klein, chairman of library and literature, and Mrs. Dave Evans, chairman of public relations, gave their reports.

Luncheon was served at 12:15 in the cafeteria of St. Stephen's school by the ladies of the Altar society.

In the afternoon session Rev. Loepker spoke on the "Confraternity of Christian Doctrine," emphasizing the working together of clergy and laity.

Mrs. Sib Thoele, Effingham, talking on "Our Family Code," read the seven articles adopted in the Family Code in Effingham which is rapidly being adopted in many other parishes. The need of a moral code, she stated, is seen in the fact that in many public schools the students have set up a code of their own to do away with the spirit of competition.

St. Lawrence parish in Lawrenceville extended an invitation to hold the fall Deane meeting.

In attendance from Harrisburg were Mrs. Bob Patrick, Mrs. Dave Evans, Mrs. J. J. Klein and Mrs. Myrtle Hauptmann.

The meeting was closed with benediction at St. Stephen's church, the Very Rev. W. E. Hanagan, Celebrant.

Mrs. Louie Gaskins announced that the unit will appear on the TV coffee club on July 6.

The Home Bureau lessons on chair upholstery was announced for May 20 through the 24th. Mrs. Mary Harper, home adviser, will conduct these lessons. The health and safe driving topics were presented by Mrs. George Lindsay, as was the minor topic, "Roses and Their Care." The major topic, "Color in Wardrobe," was presented by Mrs. Harper.

Mrs. Travis assisted Mrs. Pankey to serve refreshments of cookies, coffee and Cokes. Those present were: Mrs. Archie Abney, Mrs. W. J. Cooley, Mrs. W. F. Applegate, Mrs. A. I. Bair, Mrs. H. O. SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Cats in Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Hunt's neighborhood have made a disturbing discovery. The Hunt's year-old part-Dobberman climbs trees with the best of them.

Hunt admitted he taught the dog to climb a ladder but denies he had anything to do with the tree act.

"He wouldn't hurt cats any way," Hunt said. "Sambi just likes to chase them."

The Rare Adventure

by BERNARD FERGUSON

Copyright 1954 by Bernard Edward Fergusson. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Arriving in Seknou to seek traces of a famous Scottish relative who turned pirate, Allan Lorg and his wife Mollie, are faced with mystery. Captain Billon, the French commander, tells them they must leave and under no circumstances are they to talk politics.

VIII

At 4 o'clock Allan strolled down to the cobbler's shop to collect his shoes. The young Jew was still sitting on his counter and working away industriously; but beside him was a brand-new pair of suedes, toward which he nodded with a smile as Allan arrived. Allan picked them up tentatively; they were beautifully stitched, stout of sole and supple about the insteps and uppers. The young man made signs that he should try them on, so Allan put on the suedes, and walked up and down the street, seven or eight paces to the turn. They were as comfortable as mortal man could wish, and Allan congratulated himself and complimented their maker. In dumb show he asked how much they were to cost him; the cobbler replied in Arabic a sum less than the equivalent of two pounds; and Allan offered him a cigarette to seal the bargain. As he leant forward to light it, and his lighter flared up, he became aware that in the dark recesses of the shop there was another man.

"Would you like an English cigarette?" he asked in Arabic. A voice answered him in the same language, but with more fluency and assurance than the cobbler's; and Allan was so delighted at the chance of airing his Arabic that he sought to continue the conversation. They had exchanged two or three sentences when it struck Allan that the hand which had stretched out to take the cigarette from his pocket from out of the darkness was long-fingered, soft and manicured. The conversation did not burgeon, however, even though Allan sat on the counter to change back into his old shoes again; and he bade the cobbler good night and left the shop with his curiosity unsatisfied. He had not gone 50 yards before it was aroused by something else.

He had walked from the hotel to the shop through nearly empty streets. But now he perceived that the streets had filled up with little knots of people.

Some were Jews, going home to their houses before the sunset brought the Sabbath; but many were Berbers, talking in groups, either in the street or at cafe tables. He had the impression that all were looking at him, in the sort of way he remembered Arabs in Jerusalem looking at Europeans when something was afoot.

He went up to Mollie's room when he got back to the hotel, and found her complaining of a slight headache.

He opened the shutter so as to admit the air, which the cool bar of evening was freshening at last, and went downstairs to sit and smoke in the garden, and watch the changing light.

"Good evening, Colonel Lorg," said Fernana's voice, breaking in on his thoughts. "You were in town?"

"I was."

"It was quite quiet."

"Perfectly." So the fellow was going to talk politics.

"But they are saying that there was trouble in Nail today."

"It seems to me that everybody is very fond of the word 'trouble' in this country."

Fernana threw back his head and laughed.

"I was wondering," said Fernana, putting a finger at the corner of his mouth, and looking at Allan, "would you care to meet some of the island notables? If you and Madame Lorg are going to spend some time here, you will want to penetrate deeper into the island life than the tourists who come here in the season. Colonel Lorg: if there is anybody—any particular person, or group of people—of which you interest yourself . . . ?"

"It's very kind of you," said

Allan firmly. "I think Captain Billon will probably be able to arrange anything of that sort."

Fernana spoke again. His voice was subtle without being sly, as if he had read the thought in Allan's mind, and was now confident that each of them could hear henceforward the undertones in what they said.

"Captain Billon can introduce you to a great many interesting people. But if at any time you would care to meet some interesting people whom Captain Billon does not know—" and he left the sentence in the air.

Allan reminded himself once more of his undertaking to Billon, but still felt justified in saying noncommittally:

"I think Captain Billon will be a very good host. But I will remember, certainly, what you have said."

After dinner, when Allan and Mollie were drinking coffee in the garden, Billon arrived. He looked tired.

"You have heard about Nail?"

"I heard something," said Allan, and added quickly with a smile, "but tell him I haven't been talking politics!"

"Assuredly not!" said Billon, smiling back, and then going grave again. "There has been some shooting. One of my colleagues is wounded, but several Nails have been killed, and some shops, French shops, have been looted."

"I'm so sorry," said Mollie, with genuine sympathy. "Perhaps it's just as well we didn't go this morning."

"It is, as things have turned out. And my orders now are to keep you here until things quiet down at Nail, or until the next airplane comes in."

Don and Gene Hayes to Host Hambletonian at Du Quoin Fair

By JERE COX
United Press Staff Correspondent
DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Two brothers, Don and Gene Hayes, who turned the ugly wounds of a strip coal mine into a beauty spot, will play host to the nation's biggest harness racing attraction this year.

The Hambletonian trotting races, formerly held at Goshen, N. Y., will move to the 1,300-acre Du Quoin State Fair grounds for the first time.

There, the races will be run in a setting of green grass and blue lakes that only 15 years ago was the scarred remains of a strip mine. Some 1,400 trees, many of them eight inches in diameter when transplanted, dot the fairgrounds, and the 60-foot-deep mine pits are filled with cool spring water.

The fair proved to be a gold mine in its own right and soon became the top summer attraction in southern Illinois. Hayes bought the strip mine in 1939 and a short time later began reclaiming the property.

When Hayes died in 1952, the sons took over operations of the fair, the bottling company and the Hayes Fair Acres Stables, one of the more successful in trotting. All are located on the fairgrounds, along with the brothers' mansions, which are side-by-side.

Gene Hayes said he expected the fair to attract 350,000 this year with the added interest of the Hambletonian on Aug. 27. The fair opens Aug. 25 and runs nine days until Labor Day.

Needed More Space
Last year, the Hambletonian governing board awarded the race to Du Quoin because it had outgrown its facilities at Goshen. The Du Quoin fair each year has had a five-day meeting of the grand circuit.

One of the biggest problems for the Hayes brothers was where to house the extra thousands who will attend the race.

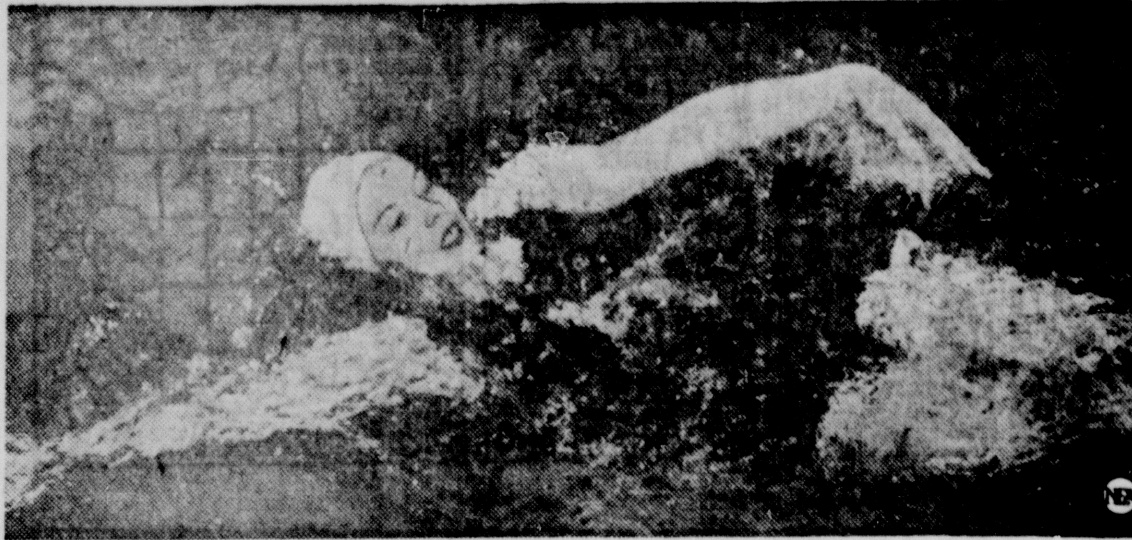

"We set up a special staff," Don said, "which has catalogued every available room within 60 miles. Southern Illinois University has helped by providing its new dormitories for fair time."

Workers presently are doubling the size of the 10,000-seat grandstand. The mile long track also encloses a circular lagoon where motorboat races are held.

Gene said the 1957 Hambletonian will be the richest in history at $115,000 to $120,000.

The Hayes have had one Hambletonian winner, Lusty Song, in 1950. One of the favorites this year is another Fair Acres 3-year-old, Royal Rodney.

"To be able to stage the Hambletonian and win it too—that would be too much," Don said.

FORMFUL YOUNGSTER—Carin Cone, Ridgewood, N. J., lass, turned in a world record 1:03.8 for the 100-yard backstroke at a women's meet in Beverly Hills, Cal. The clocking was in the nature of a birthday present—she swam the event on her 17th birthday.

VFW Nine Edges Thompsonville

The Harrisburg VFW baseball team nosed out the Thompsonville Red Birds in a well-played game, on the VFW field Sunday afternoon, 2-1.

Bill McNew hurled hitless and scoreless ball for the first three innings. Jack Feddele was touched for two hits and one run in his two innings. Aggie Miller hurled two hitless innings as did Raymond Tomazzi in the final two frames. Dick Romonosky handled these pitchers behind the plate for VFW. Melvin, the Red Birds pitcher, hurled a fine game allowing only six hits and one earned run. Doss was his receiver.

Harrisburg scored its first run in the second on a single by Wallace and a triple by Romonosky. Thompsonville tied it up in the fourth on a walk, fielder's choice and a hit by Harris. The game remained tied until the last of the ninth when Romonosky was safe on an error, the first of the game, and he scored when the catcher attempted to pick him off, and threw into right field.

Bob Dallas led both teams in hitting with a double and a single. Wallace had one hit in one official trip. Gully Griffith and Romonosky also got hits. Other Harrisburg boys who saw action were, Logsdon, Stout, Givens, Hay, Fequay and Proctor. The last two mentioned players are Coal Belt players.

The Harrisburg team will practice Saturday at 5 p. m. Hitting practice will be stressed. The locals will open League play next week.

Don Stanton to Succeed Thomas At Pinckneyville

PINCKNEYVILLE, Ill. (AP)—A protege of Merrill (Duster) Thomas has succeeded him as basketball coach at Pinckneyville High School.

Don Stanton, 23, was named to succeed the "sage of Beaucoup Creek."

Stanton, who is finishing work for his degree at St. Louis University, is a tennis coach and freshman basketball coach there.

Thomas, 52, will stay on at Pinckneyville as athletic director. He had announced earlier that he would quit after 18 years as basketball coach at the end of this school year. He said the job didn't pay enough to warrant the worry.

His teams made the state tournament several years, and won the title in 1948.

Stanton played on the team in 1949, 1950 and 1951 under Thomas.

Robinson Hammers
Down Odds for Bout
With Fullmer Wednesday

CHICAGO (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson's sharp hitting hammered down the odds today as he finished boxing preparations, for Wednesday night's return title fight with middleweight champion Gene Fullmer.

Young Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, is favored at only 2-1 to keep his 160-pound crown by beating 36-year-old Robinson in their 15-rounder at the Chicago Stadium. That's a remarkable drop of six "points" from the 16-5 that prevailed over the week end.

False Alarm Pays
MILWAUKEE (AP)—Co-eds at Marquette University's O'Donnell Hall sent Fire Chief Ed Wischer $200 to pay the department for answering a false alarm. A fire-alarm box on the first floor of the girl's dormitory broke, sending 350 girls from the building. They re-entered when no trace of fire was found.

Bull Dogs Score 11, Eagles 16, in Herrin Relays

Harrisburg scored 11 points to finish ninth and Eldorado scored 16 to finish a notch or two ahead of the Bull Dogs in a 22-man field at the Herrin relays Saturday night.

Bill Yates of Harrisburg, Junior speedster, copped the 100 yard dash and Eldorado took first in the distance medley relay.

The meet was run on a water-soaked track and field, with Centralia finishing first, Belleville second, Marion third and Benton fourth.

In addition to Yates' five points in the 100, Harrisburg picked up four points with a fourth in the freshman relay and two points with a fifth in the varsity relay.

Freshman relay runners were Larry Wise, Larry Conrad, John Donovan and Rode Aldridge. Varsity relay participants were Don Biggs, Larry Barnett, Darrell Duke and Yates.

Besides first place in the distance medley relay Eldorado took third in the eight-lap event.

Winning the distance medley with ease and gaining ten points were Lester Fequay 1-lap, Tom Baugher 2-laps, David Reeves 1-2 lap and Leonard Willis 4 laps. The Herrin track is approximately a fifth of a mile and the above distances are Herrin's answer to the usual distances of a quarter mile, half mile, 220-yard dash and mile run in the distance medley event.

Donald Kingery joined Baugher, Fequay and Willis to form the eight-lap team for Eldorado, which captured six points.

The South Seven conference freshman-sophomore track and field meet is scheduled to be held at West Frankfort tomorrow starting at 6 p. m. The conference varsity meet also will be held at Frankfort this week, Friday evening starting at six o'clock.

The Southern Illini conference, of which Eldorado is a member, will hold its freshman meet Wednesday and its varsity meet Friday, both at McLeansboro.

Carrier Mills Beats Galatia, 3-0

Carrier Mills defeated Galatia 3-0 in a high school baseball game Friday afternoon on the winner's field.

Jack Cowger hurled all the way for the winners and allowed only one hit and it was collected by D. Woodard, Galatia's pitcher. Hankins and Collins were the Galatia and Carrier Mills catchers.

Carrier Mills bunched three hits with a walk and two errors to score two runs in the first inning and a hit and an error were turned into another marker in the second.

Keys, with a triple and single paced the winners at bat. Van-Hoy and Mitchell each collected doubles and Collins and Cowger singles to round out the attack.

This was the opening game of the season for Galatia and marked CM's first victory in three starts, having dropped previous decisions to Harrisburg and Shawneetown.

SIU Golfers Win Dual Meet

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Southern Illinois golfers won a dual meet with Missouri School of Mines, 18-6.

SIU Captain Andy Barnett fired a one-under-par 71 to lead his teammates to their third season victory Saturday.

Braves Win Sixth Straight From Reds; Cards Sweep Doubleheader from Cubs

By United Press
The Milwaukee Braves have silenced their most severe critics today with one of the fastest starts in National League history featured by five one-run victories and a glittering 2.70 staff earned run average.

And, in the process, they are threatening to turn the N. L. race into a two-team fight with the Brooklyn Dodgers instead of the three and possibly four-team struggle predicted by the experts. The Dodgers, with a 7-3 record, are the only other team in the league over .500 after two weeks of play.

The Braves dealt the Cincinnati Redlegs a staggering blow over the week end when they made it six straight victories for the season over them. Sunday's 3-2 triumph, in which 35-year-old Red Murrif picked up the first win of his big league career, dropped the Ted Kluszewski-less Redlegs three games under .500 and 5 1/2 games behind the front-running Braves.

Yielded One Run

Murrif, taking over from Taylor Phillips, yielded one run and three hits in the last 5 1-3 innings. The Dodgers suffered their third loss in 10 games when Bob Friend fired a seven-hitter to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3-0 decision. Hank Foiles singled home Pittsburgh's first run in the fifth and the Pirates added single tallies in the seventh and eighth.

St. Louis pitching limited the Chicago Cubs to a total of five hits in the doubleheader as the Cardinals scored 6-2 and 4-0 victories while the Philadelphia Phillies walloped the New York Giants 11-2, in other N. L. games. The Giants led in the nightcap, 8-7, when it was suspended in the seventh with Philadelphia's potential tying run on base. It will be completed Aug. 16.

One-Game Lead

The Chicago White Sox opened up a one-game lead in the American League when they beat the Kansas City Athletics, 5-3. Chicago has won seven of nine games.

Yogi Berra's 10th-inning homer lifted the New York Yankees to a 3-2 victory and snapped the Boston Red Sox' five-game winning streak. A crowd of 36,971 saw Don Larsen pick up his first win of the year after the Red Sox tied the score against Bob Grim with two runs in the ninth.

Jim Busby scored on catcher Frank House's error to give the Cleveland Indians a 10-inning, 3-2 verdict after the Detroit Tigers won their opener, 3-0.

Jerry Snyder singled home Whittey Herzog in the 10th to give the Washington Senators a 7-6 victory but the Baltimore Orioles won the nightcap, 3-1, as relief pitcher Billy O'Dell turned in a 3-3 hitless innings.

Joseph R. Williams, former Detroit lawyer, was appointed first president of Michigan State College in 1887.

Rumor Five Will Retire Soon From Cabinet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five members of President Eisenhower's cabinet may resign soon, according to informed GOP circles.

Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson and Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey, previously have been reported ready to return to private life.

The GOP circles said the three other cabinet members who may how out soon are Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks and Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

Wilson and Humphrey were expected to stay on until after the outcome of the congressional fights over appropriations, defense and taxes.

Wilson's resignation has been rumored, and denied, for months. Reports that Humphrey is leaving sprang up again last week and the Treasury secretary himself dropped a strong hint that he plans to resign soon. Humphrey said it was well known that he had "been in the cabinet much longer than I originally planned."

Three names have been mentioned as possible replacements for Humphrey. They are Robert B. Anderson, a Texas Eisenhower Democrat and former deputy defense secretary; Undersecretary of Treasury W. Randolph Burgess, and Lewis W. Douglas, former ambassador to Britain and one-time
